In 1943, Dr. HRINIOGH was elected Chief of the Section for Foreign Affairs and Political Inspector of the UPA (Ukrainian Army of Liberation Underground). He visited the Resistance organizations in HUNGARY, ROMANIA, and POLAND, and participated in secret congresses, etc. His aim was for the coordination of the dispersed groups of resistance among the different nations and political groups.

In 1944, he came into contact with the BALKANS and ITALY by courier. March and April 1944, the UPA was fighting against brown as well as imperialist. Dr. BRINIOCH entered into negotiations with the German intelligence, since the German troops were quitting the Ukraine. It was agreed together with fixed conditions, that when the Germans quit the country, the UPA would be left weapons and material for the fight against the Soviets.

In 1944, Dr. BRINTOCH was elected Vice-President of the UHWR and, hence, the foreign representative body for the UHWR abroad.

On 22 September 1944, he left the UPA and went to KRAKOW, POLAND, and PHARMEDLAWE, where he supervised the execution of the agreement with the Germans. In April 1945, he went to ALEXBURG to assist with the German forces, which was under the command of Germans, in order to carry out orders regarding the procedure to be followed with the German forces.

in 1945, he went to PRAGUE and there fought and was killed by some important leaders from the hands of the Soviets.

On June 1, 1964, he went to MUNICH and visited the IFPR with the sub- or an
